

CPD event: Practical advice on supportive treatment of childhood illnesses

Date: Sunday 21st November 2010

Venue: Holiday Inn, Povey Cross Road, Horley, Surrey RH6 0BB Tel: 0871 942 9030 (maps/directions sent with registration confirmation).

Event outline

This event will seek to ensure that participants:

- Achieve a reinforced understanding of the logical reasons why children and adults contract infectious diseases, and the rationale for supportive treatment of such conditions
- Are confident giving advice about non-suppression of fevers with regard to febrile convulsions
- Have knowledge of a range of simple practical measures that can be implemented to provide supportive management of childhood illness
- Can use these simple adjuncts to their standard care to increase their therapeutic success
- Are easily able to explain the mechanisms of common conditions to their patients, in simple terms, so that their patients feel empowered and less anxious
- Are confident in the practical adjuncts to management of specific conditions in addition to their normal practice
- Can use these simple adjuncts to their standard care to increase their therapeutic success

Speaker: Dr Jayne Donegan

Dr Donegan qualified in medicine at St Mary's Hospital Medical School, University of London, in 1983. She trained in accident & emergency, orthopaedics & trauma, paediatrics, neonatal intensive care, obstetrics & gynaecology, ENT, dermatology and general medicine. She gained postgraduate qualifications in child health, obstetrics & gynaecology and general practice before becoming a family doctor. In 1990 she began to study homeopathy and is currently a practicing homeopathic physician and a specialist on the Faculty of Homoeopathy register.
